Commander

Lydia Ash, S

With the arrival of September, and the ensuing Autumn, we get back into a groove with our family, academic and church schedules presuming we've survived the summer heat. I can't claim it for everyone but my summer seemed incredibly unproductive on the boating front. Not what I had planned. I'll not grouse any further blaming the humidity as we've all heard enough about that. I'll just say that the Jolly Tar is grateful that Dad and I are "back at it," having lost a lot of time to that, er,... "climate thing" I just promised not to speak of.

We're well into the varnish removal and soon we'll be teak oiling the b'Jesus out of all the woodwork. A topped-up can of fuel will be onboard, and the latest hire to dispense of the barnacles is in place, all thanks to the oversight by the ECYC Dockmaster. People do look out for us. We are ever-grateful! Now we need only replace the main halyard as the current one has frayed,... THEN, we'll have some confidence to head out.

Thankfully the Squadron as a whole, was incredibly active and we managed to be present at many events in town and I commend you ALL for your continued participation! We welcomed several new members too, which is truly fantastic! The coming months are filled with activities including our September and November membership meetings, the much anticipated Chili Cookoff in October and of course our holiday soiree in December! Please read all the enclosed articles to see what everyone is reporting on! Note the dates for all events in your calendars!

Classes have successfully prepared more members to be safe on the water and many will get practical knowledge on board various boats here soon. Superb! Those who can should head to the October District 27 meeting and come back to report to the rest of the Squadron. Preparations and conversations are already underway with the District for next year's District 27 Rendezvous which Cape Lookout will host in June. Be thinking of activities you would like to have to show everyone a good time in our beautiful town and surrounds!

With that, let's look forward to all good things for us all this Fall!

PS - We still await word on the actual speed limit on the Trent River,

The Outlook and other great information are available at the CLSPS website:

On Saturday September 7th the Squadron manned the ARAPAHOE rest stop, aka stop #6, to help all the riders on the BIKE MS ride. We handed out snacks, i.e. peanut butter, pickles, pickle juice, oranges, etc. and water with Gatorade to keep all the riders fueled and hydrated. With the rain our most requested item were the paper towels. There was also a first aid station with a nurse and a bike repair shop, so a well manned rest stop.

This is a fundraiser for the Multiple Sclerosis Society. It is a bike ride, not a race, of 15 to 150 miles over 2 days. There are 50 of these Bike MS rides every year across the USA. Anyone over 12 years old can ride and some are over 80 years. There were riders who have done this ride for the last 30 years, Wow!

The New Bern MS ride has raised $1,204,250.57 to date this year. The goal was $1,665,000 from 1143 riders. Bike MS is the largest fundraising cycling series in the world.

The Cape Lookout Sail and Power Squadron was in charge of this rest stop. We had 6 people for the morning and 6 for the afternoon. PC John C. Kwak was the Captain for this event, that is a Bike MS title.

He had a superb team to help and serve the riders. They were: PC Jane and PC Lloyd Moore Linda and Raymond Whitley Anne Brittle, and Rhoda Fort Cdr Lydia Ash and Juli Voelker

Thank you all who came out to get wet with the riders.

Thanks to Bill Ash and Ray Whitley, we now have two squadron members who have had their vessels safety checked and both vessels received their VSE sticker. Congratulations.

It isn't too late in the season to have your vessel checked by one of our Vessel Safety Examiners. It is free, and usually only takes 15 minutes or so unless you get involved in telling sea (boat) stories.

Just let one of us know when and where you would like to have your boat checked to make sure you have everything you need for safety, and that everything that needs to be current in fact is so.

Goodbye Summer and Hello Fall. It was a great summer. Many members of the club had a truly enjoyable time at the District 27 Rendezvous in Washington, NC. I'm proud to share that our squadron was there and set up to take pledges for the Sea Tow Sober Skipper program. We got over 25 pledges and will continue this effort our next dinner. Make sure to take the pledge and we'll make sure to have all participants logged in the official count at Sea Tow. This is an honorable program we want to continue to share it in the New Bern Community. Some of the programs enjoyed included lots of great food but also a ghost tour, ship building and Underground Railroad presentations. Tar/Pamlico River tours were relaxing and educational. It all came together in the end with a spicy shrimp boil. New and old friends enjoyed fellowship as well as exciting news about the 2025 Rendezvous. Ear mark that on your calendars for June.

We have some great events coming up and I hope to have as many participate as possible. We really get to know each other more during our outings. I'm looking forward to seeing

We will be in touch about pre-show lunch.

The next CLSPS dinner at The Chelsea will feature a presentation by Scott Harrelson who is the director of the New Bern Health Department. He will discuss the many programs and resources available to residents in our community.

Be sure to RSVP to our November 18th dinner. Our Boat Handling class has been filled with boating stories from the instructors and the students can't get enough so we've decided to feature a "Breakfast For Dinner Story Time" theme. Start thinking about those sailing and boating stories that are either your own or ones you've heard. You can even come dressed in pajamas or nautical themed clothing!

Good news, after the Sound Rivers presentation by Samantha Krop many members were interested in adopting one of the New Bern Trash Collectors. I have a verbal agreement that we can do that for October but I'm waiting on details. I'm pretty sure this will be a weekly activity. All equipment will be provided by Sound Rivers. I will let the squadron know as soon as I have the necessary information. I think we'll need a crew of at least 6.

Don't forget to get ready for our Chili Cookoff on Sunday, October 6 at Fairfield Harbor's Red Sail Park. Prizes for the best Chili, cornbread and dessert. More details to come.

A field trip has been booked to visit Bonehenge Whale Center on Tuesday, October 22 at 10am. This is a facility in Beaufort, NC that works to educate and preserve ocean dwelling mammals. This is a private tour for our group and I need to start collecting reservations now. If the group exceeds 16, we will break into two groups (10 am & 11:30 am). After both groups complete the presentation we can meet for lunch in downtown Beaufort. Stay tuned for details. Bonehenge Whale Center | Beaufort, North Carolina

Lastly, here come the holidays! Our gracious hosts, The Whitley's will open their home once again on Sunday, December 8th at 4pm. Start shopping NOW. Our gift exchange was so much fun that we'll be repeating it. My personal observations were that hats, knives and wine were coveted trades. Think about what boaters love! Or get silly....

We have just finished up our summer Boat Handling class with 5 students. Many thanks to John Kwak, Jane Moore, and Lloyd Moore for teaching classes and lending their personal knowledge to the class. Sometimes the book can get a little dry and it always helps to have someone that has actually done the things we are reading about tell about some of their adventures (and misadventures). Lloyd will be giving the exam on Thursday night and then we are going to head for the water to practice anchoring, docking, and controlling a boat in different situations. We are lucky to have volunteers with power and sail boats (and kayaks). We would like to make a day on the water for anyone interested in going out. A time and place will be announced in October when the weather is great for boating.

Our ABC class is scheduled for 2 weekends in May of 2025. This time we will avoid the Memorial Day weekend.

We would like to welcome Ian and Cam MacGregor to our Squadron. They attended our July dinner meeting and requested transfer from the Raleigh Sail & Power Squadron to our Cape Lookout Sail & Power Squadron. They attended the D27 Rendezvous in August in Washington, NC.

Ian sent the following brief bio to help us get to know them.

“Ian and Cam are new to New Bern, having moved from Raleigh this past spring after Cam’s retirement in late 2022 (she owned a pet care business) and Ian’s final retirement in April 2024 (Ian was dual career - he was rector of an Anglican Church he and Cam founded in 2001 and also worked in banking). They bought their first boat (Peace & Quiet - a 30-foot Hunter sloop in 2004. In 2007 they traded up for a 36-foot Irwin Ketch (Peace & Quiet II). They were then boat-less from around 2012 to 2021, when they acquired their current boat - a 1990 46-foot Grand Banks Trawler christened ‘Whiskers’. The vast majority of their boating experience has been in local North Carolina waters - especially the Neuse River and Pamlico Sound. Their longest and most exciting trip was bringing Whiskers down from Annapolis in 2022. Whiskers has been ‘in the yard’ since late last year getting some planned work taken care of, but should be released and home any day!”

We encourage members to look at the national website, usps.org, to review the many member benefits that are available.

Nominating Committee Update Co-Chair Lt/C Jane Moore, AP

Recently, Elaine Lechner, Lloyd Moore and Owen Smith (by phone) and I met to plan for the coming year 2025/2026 to prepare a slate of officers for the elected positions of Bridge Members, Executive Committee and general committees of Rules, Audit and Nominating. Our annual meeting and election will be January 20, 2025. The proposed slate will be posted early in December. A tentative date has been set for the Change of Watch – Saturday, February 22, 2025 for a lunch meeting.

If you have already heard from a member of the committee, thank you for your consideration for next year. If you have not received a call and are currently a member of the Bridge, Executive Committee and general committee, please consider if you are willing to continue or move up. As co-chair of the committee, I have had positive responses about what positions will be filled and still waiting to hear about other elected positions.

We are grateful to each member who is willing to take part in the many positions to help with the Squadron. Please think about how you can be active and help with the Squadron. Several elected positions which will be available in 2025/2026 are Assistant Education Officer, Secretary and Assistant Secretary, Rules and Audit Committee. Please contact any member of the committee for more information.

MYSTERIES OF THE DEEP P/C WILLIAM J. ASH SN, EMERITUS

“Horatio, old bean (we were very informal and comfortable when by ourselves) these pullovers do the trick, don’t they? We would be chilled to the bone without them. I’m sorry, my friend, I thought you were right next to me, I was unaware you had slipped below to rescue the flask of liquid we had prepared in the event we needed to stabilize our temperatures. Frankly, I believe we are becoming a bit tender in our old age.”

“I think each of us needs to thank the heavens we do as well as we do. I see you are using a staff (cane) now. Rather tough, isn’t it? I know you have a history of being a rather good baseball player; even played a drift of ice hockey didn’t you? Well, the staff fits you, quite well. Just pretend it’s a bat or a hockey stick. You look very impressive with it. Whose idea was it to refer your stick as a staff?”

“A Special Forces, Jumping, Chaplin, retired Colonel in the Army and one of the sincerest friends I have ever had. He told me to stop calling it the walking stick or cane or whatever and refer to it as a staff. He said it goes with my credentials. He thinks it makes me look important. I think I’ll give it a name; any suggestions?”

“Listen, we better get on with the business at hand and quite frankly I’m not sure what that is. It may concern persons who give me a vital tip now and then. Undercover agents! Yes, that was it. I have this fellow, a good, long time friend by the name of Clewsew. I’m not sure how much time he can spend helping. Say! He’s the fellow I introduced to you a couple of weeks ago; the same guy. I have, however, two other gentlemen in mind. The two men who figured the troubles in the true story of The Wreck of the Mary Deare. They were two tough men. Still, I kind of favor Clewsew because he’s a behind the scenes type of fellow, more like a classic spy, Sneaky and tough. Where did he get his name? Ha, you forgot. Think back, Horatio! You will remember.”

“Now I remember. Yes, he was, for a long time, a specialist responsible for repairing that part of the sail fastened to the mast hoops. He spent hours each day at his sewing machine and he was known throughout the sailing world for excellent workmanship. His work mates nicknamed him. I’ll not say anymore about him at this time.”

Frankly, this has been a refresher course, of sorts, about a name appearing much in the past. New, curious members may try to

Cooperative Charting: Aids to Navigation (ATON) Surveys
Greg Shay

One of the fun activities in Cooperative Charting is getting out on the water (we are a boating club after all) and going out to inspect aids to navigation on the waterways. This is part of the Coop Nautical Program which includes bridges. When you do an ATON survey, you will receive 15 credits for each verification(ATON is in correct position and no issues) and 25 credits if you find a discrepancy(ATON off station or needs attention).

So, let's look at the process!

To do a verification for individual credit, you will need to get reasonably close to the aid whether it is a day beacon or a floating aid. Do remember though that most day beacons are not in deep water so be careful. If you determine that there is nothing wrong, take a time/date/GPS photo of the aid (ideally use an APlike Solocator) and then move on to the next one. If you find there are issues, such as missing boards or numbers, or missing aid in general (according to the chart of the area), you then need to also report the discrepancy to the CoastGuard. You can do this via VHF, by phone, by email or on the USCG website. Make sure that you ask for and get a receipt from them showing that you were in contact. This will be attached to the report that you submit to the Cooperative Charting Committee. You also need to take a time/date/GPS photo of the defective aid or, if it is missing, of the area where it is supposed to be.

Do check the Local Notice to Mariners (LNM) lists to see if what you have found has already been reported. Once you have collected your information, go to the Co-op website under the Executive Department in the National USPS website where you will find the necessary form to report your verifications or discrepancies plus a link to the OAA site to report any discrepancies to them. Make sure that you access the Light List to identify the number for each aid that you are reporting on. There is an APP that you can use on Apple products called AV Assistant that is of great help in finding the information as well. Once submitted, your report will be reviewed by a Co-op Charting Committee member and credits awarded. You should get an email acknowledging that your report has been reviewed. The Cooperative Charting Committee is also in the process of developing a program for reporting navigation issues like shoaling or other chart discrepancies to NOAA. But ONLY discrepancies! Not general items or ATON's! More on that later. Have fun and get out on the water as often as you can. If you have questions, please reach out to one of the committee members. We are always glad to help.
